Welcome to Claremont Graduate University!

Dear AAR Members and Colleagues, welcome to Claremont Graduate University for the 2020 Annual Meeting of the Western Region of the American Academy of Religion. This year's program has admitted nearly 160 papers in 24 Program Units.

The host for the 2020 meeting is Claremont Graduate University. Thank you to Jason Sexton, Nicola Denzey Lewis, Deja Darrington, and multiple department chairs in the graduate departments of CGU for your generosity and gracious hospitality. If you see anyone from CGU, be sure to thank them for the time and energy put into ensuring the success of this year's conference.

Directions to each session have been marked with helpful signs, pointing you to your place of interest. If, for any reason, you are having trouble finding your place of interest, please contact the conference manager – Joseph Paxton – via email joseph.paxton@cst.edu. It is requested that text and email be used as primary modes of communication for information, directions, and accommodations. If you are a unit chair, please call directly if you are experiencing technical difficulties and need immediate assistance.

Sunday Afternoon Business Meeting

In preparation for next year, we will hold our annual business meeting Sunday afternoon in Burkle 14 from 12:45 – 2:00 p.m. All attendees are invited to come, and lunch will be provided. We will update members on policy revisions, news, discuss administrative and organization details, and provide preliminary details of the upcoming 2020 conference at the Claremont Graduate University in Claremont, California.

Acknowledgements

The American Academy of Religion, Western Region (AAR/WR) would like to express its thanks to the many people who came together to make this year's meeting possible.

We begin with Claremont Graduate University which has shown such generosity, not only through sharing its campus, but also by making other appreciated contributions.

FRIDAY PRE-CONFERENCE, MARCH 13

9:30am-Noon Women's Caucus Event – Navajo Changing Women: The Creative Process and the Art of Navigating the Psyche - Burkle 26

Presenter: Odette Springer

Bio: Odette is a writer, filmmaker, and classically trained musician. In her depth psychological work, she uses tools such as active imagination, dreams and mythology as ways to awaken the creative spirit. Her dissertation Changing Woman: Calling The Feminine Home focuses on trauma and the creative process.

The Event: The Navajo deity Changing Woman is Earth, the Feminine Creator, spirit, breath, and voice. As the central figure of the Kinaaldá, a ritual marking the point in the life of the female who can now bear children, Changing Woman facilitates the rite of passage for young women. She represents the process of creation, always in flux. The cyclical aspect of her nature not only endows her with the power of rejuvenation, but it also defines her as a figurehead of the Earth Goddess. As a symbol of equanimity and balance, she models the integration of opposing--often destructive--forces in the psyche.

Western psyche is informed by binary and scientifically-oriented modes of knowing, while Native Navajo tradition is in relationship with nature, informed by intuition. In a healthy psyche, these paradigms co-exist and inform one another. We explore the creative process and the difficulty of navigating the opposing energies within our psyche following the guidance of the myth of Changing Woman.

The AAR Western Region Women's Caucus event is gender-inclusive, free and welcomes all people of goodwill to participate in this imperative restorative work. Registration is available at the door, but RSVP is encouraged and much appreciated.

The event is free. Please RSVP to Yuria Celidwen – celidwen@hotmail.com.

12:00-5:00      AAR-WR Board Meeting – The Board of Trustees Room

7:00-9:30      Queer Caucus Event - Queer View 2020 – “More Than Just a Bar: Lived History, Religion, and Gay Bars”
Location: Burkle 16

Join Us for a screening of the recently released documentary San Diego Gay Bay History and a follow-up Q and A with director Paul Detwiler moderated by Dr. Marie Cartier.

San Diego Gay Bay History documents the rise of the gay bar, the significance of the growing LGBT communities in those spaces, and the people who flourished despite the prejudice and demeaning treatment. Narrated by AAR Western Region’s own Dr. Marie Cartier, the film focuses on the landscape of the growing LGBT community in San Diego with the rise of the Gay Bay scene and includes interviews with activists, participants, and local LGBT members. The film traces the development of the gay bar as a community institution in San Diego, from post-WWII to the present. Winner of the Audience Award for Best Documentary at the 2018 FilmOut San Diego LGBT film festival. The film highlights the significance that Southern California played in being a vanguard in establishing a thriving LGBT community.

Attendees will have the chance to view never before seen archival footage of the gay bar scene in San Diego post-WWII to the present and take part in an interactive discussion on the important role gay bars played in the development of the modern LGBTQ movement.

The event is free and open to the public. Please RSVP to queerstudies.aar@gmail.com

Title: "Cultural Ideals as Practices of Exclusion"

Bio: Dr. Reggie Williams book Bonhoeffer's Black Jesus: Harlem Renaissance Theology and an Ethic of Resistance (Baylor University Press, 2014) was selected as a Choice Outstanding Title in 2015, in the field of religion. The book is an analysis of exposure to Harlem Renaissance intellectuals, and worship at Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist on the German pastor and theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer, during his year of post-doctoral study at Union Seminary in New York, 1930-31.

Dr. Williams' research interests include Christological ethics, theological anthropology, Christian social ethics, the Harlem Renaissance, race, politics and black church life. His current book project includes a religious critique of whiteness in the Harlem Renaissance. In addition, he is working on a book analyzing the reception of Bonhoeffer by liberation activists in apartheid South Africa.

Dr. Williams received his Ph.D. in Christian ethics at Fuller Theological Seminary in 2011. He earned a Master's degree in Theology from Fuller in 2006 and a Bachelor's degree in Religious Studies from Westmont College in 1995. He is a member of the board of directors for the Society for Christian Ethics, as well as the International Dietrich Bonhoeffer Society. He is also a member of the American Academy of Religion and Society for the Study of Black Religion.

Wicca, and Gender Theory: Pedagogy Workshop – How to incorporate Engaged Learning Experiences

Organizers: Marie Cartier, California State University, Northridge and Anjeanette LeBoeuf, Claremont Graduate University

How does one incorporate Feminist and Gender Theory to Goddess Studies to make it relevant, fun, and productive for students? How does one bridge the gap between praxis and academics? How do you create safe spaces in classrooms when engaging in material that has been deemed heretical, witchcraft, and the remnants of past women's empowerment movements? Have you struggled with how to incorporate any material that is being labeled as reactionary, subversive, non-conforming? Then this is the panel for you.

The Goddess Studies Pedagogy Workshop is just the space for this. The Pedagogy Workshop will explore how to create a curriculum which provides spaces for academic, lived praxis, and the non-traditional. Using the case study of Dr. LeBoeuf and Dr. Cartier's integration of Goddess Studies in the classroom this workshop will explore how to use mixed medias and incorporated engaged learning techniques.

Dr. LeBoeuf will talk about her Goddesses Around the World course and the projects that were effective in creating engaged learning outcomes. The panel will include participating in the ritual that was used in the course performed by Dr. Cartier. Dr. Cartier is an ordained priestess in the Temple of Isis/ Fellowship of Isis and has been a practicing Wiccan for over 40 years.

The purpose of this panel will be in constructing new pedagogical methods for created courses that are heavily in engaged learning experiences. The workshop portion will include syllabi construction, in classroom activities, ways to move away from the term paper, and how to arrange on-site field trips.
